NEW SONG SHINES LIGHT ON EVERYDAY MIRACLES

New song from singer & producer Josh Goldberg celebrates the miracles of life

Los Angeles, November 16, 2020: Just in time for Hanukkah, Josh Goldberg will release a new single and music video about the wonder of life's everyday miracles.

"That's What Makes a Miracle," written by veteran L.A. songwriters Ross Garren (Ben Folds, Bon Iver, Ke$ha, Marc Cohn) and Vikram Devasthali, explores the idea that miracles are found not only in biblical grand gestures but also in everyday, small moments in the world around us -- if we would only look for them.

A well-known singer/songwriter and producer in the world of contemporary Jewish music, Josh Goldberg felt drawn to the song when friend and co-producer of Goldberg's latest album Anchors and Balloons Ross Garren shared it with him. "I don't typically record songs that I didn't write, but this immediately struck me as such an emotionally stirring song," Goldberg explained. "To me this song is about how we can overcome darkness, evil, and despair by learning to appreciate the small miracles surrounding us every day."

Songwriter Devasthali added, "The lyrics speak of grace, and how a sense of the miraculous is more than just an eye for signs and wonders. When we persist in knowing hope for ourselves and every stranger in a strange land, we welcome grace into the most heartbreaking parts of humanity. That we are able to do this at all is nothing short of a miracle."

The song and accompanying music video will be released on all streaming platforms on December 4, 2020, an aptly timed arrival in anticipation of Hanukkah celebrations the following week.
